Resolutions and Notes (unanimously agreed, unless otherwise noted):

54.01 Considering class antenna sizes in ISO/IEC 7810, 7811-1 and 7811-9

WG8 thanks the WG1 Convener for providing the information from 21st March 2013 regarding how to consider class antenna sizes in the standards ISO/IEC 7810, 7811-1 and 7811-9. The discussion of WG1's intention resulted in the following position of WG8:

The proposed text in 7811-1 and 7811-9, i.e.

“When the technology used to form the raised areas causes a physical deformation of the card such as mechanical embossing, then special care shall be taken that such deformation of the card does not adversely affect the required characteristics of the contained components such as IC, antenna, connecting wires, etc. A minimum distance of 3 mm between the contained components and any deformed part of the card is recommended.”

is well accepted.

However, the proposed text for to be inserted into 7810, i.e.

“If a 14443-1 Class 2 antenna is integrated in an ID-1 card, no part of a Class-2 antenna area specified in ISO/IEC 14443-1 Annex A should extend further than 29.89 mm from the top edge of the card to keep the antenna outside the embossing area defined in ISO/IEC 7811-1 and ISO/IEC 7811-9.”

is seen too restrictive. In addition it is not actual anymore, because it does not cover further class antenna sizes defined in ISO/IEC 14443. WG8 proposes to WG1 to replace the above text by

“Refer to 7811-1 and 7811-9, if antennas according to ISO/IEC 14443-1 are to be integrated in ID-1 cards.”

The rationale for this is, that antennas according to ISO/IEC 14443-1 can be located anywhere in ID-1 cards, provided the requirements given in 7811-1 and 7811-9 are followed.
